ball is anxious to have a representative gathering of artists, authors, sculptors, musicians and others belonging to art organizations, and those who have not already received invitations may do so by applying to Harry H. Cramer, 16 East Forty-seventh street.

There will be three parts to the spectacle in the dance, which is being arranged by Howard Greenley and others. First will come the Sorcerers' Dance, symbolical of the Middle Ages, and then a dance of the Five Senses, typical of the Renaissance period. It will conclude with a tableau, when a globe, around which the dancers perform, will open like the petals of a flower, disclosing the Spirit of the Renaissance.

Mrs. E. Roscoe Mathews is organizing a group of young society women who will appear as the Angels of St. Ursula and Mrs. William Greenough is organizing still another group who will appear as nudes and courtiers. Mrs. Payne Whitney will head the group of Venetian poets, and there will be seen personages of the court of Justinian and

D. Straight, Mrs. Whitney Warren, Mrs. V. Everitt Macy, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Miss Elsie de Wolfe, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, Mrs. John W. Alexander, Mrs. Otto H. Kahn, Mrs. George Blumenthal, Mrs. R. Fulton Cutting, Mrs. Ernest Flaggs, Mrs. W. Bourke Cockran and Mrs. Adrian Iselin 2d.

A tea and sale will be held in the ballroom of the Plaza on Saturday, from 2 until 7 o'clock, under the auspices of the board of managers of the Masters' School Day Nursery, for the benefit of that institution. Several young women of society will assist at the booths, at which will be sold fancy and useful articles. During the afternoon there will be dancing and during intermissions moving pictures, including views of the international polo match at Meadow Brook last summer, will be shown.

Among the members of the board of managers, who will assist are Misses Bradford Ellsworth, Harris E. Adriaens, Arthur W. Francis, Henry M. Brookfield, Eugene D. Alexander, John Aiken, George W. Betts, Jr., Edward H. Herzog, William Wadsworth, Herbert Wilcox and Wilfred J. Worcester, the Misses Edith Walton, Marie Cozzens, Lydia C. Butler, Flora C. Benjamin, Elizabeth Belknap and Esther D. Waterman.

Topics relating to society's interest in charitable institutions and settlements will be taken up at the luncheon which will be held at Sherry's on Saturday under the auspices of the women's boards connected with the settlements of New York and its vicinity. Dr. John H. Finley will preside and among the guests of honor will be Bishop Greer and Commissioner of Correction Katherine Davis. George McAneny, President of the Board of Aldermen, and Dr. Graham Taylor of the Chicago Commons will be among the principal speakers.

Some of those interested in the luncheon who are expected to be present are Mrs. Jacob A. Riss, Mrs. J. Warren Goddard, Mrs. William S. Edgar, Mrs. Jonathan Bulkley, Mrs. Francis L. Slade, Mr. Arthur Curtis James, Mrs. James R. Sheffield, Mrs. Louis Marshall, Mrs. Dave Hennen Morris, Mrs. John R. MacArthur, Mrs. Thomas Potterthwaite, Mrs. Rudolph Schirmer, Mrs. Robert Irving Jenks, Mrs. George W. Jenkins, Mrs. Norton Goddard, Mrs. George Draper, Mrs. H. A. Day, Mrs. Francis Boardman, Mrs. William Adams Brown, Miss Emily Sloane and Miss Ruth Draper.

The annual concert for the benefit of the New York Diet Kitchen Association will be held in the large ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria on Monday morning, February 16. Mrs. Henry Villard is the president of the association, which maintains milk stations in the congested sections of the city and carries on work in other directions of benefit to mothers and children.

Paul Belmors, tenor, who has been heard at several of the private entertainments given this winter, will be among the artists and an interesting programme will be arranged. Mrs. Villard is receiving applications for tickets at 540 Park avenue.

Diversions of a decidedly novel nature are being planned for the ball to be held in the new ballroom of the Hotel Biltmore on the night of February 24 for the benefit of the Lisa Day Nursery. As this will be Shrove Tuesday, the occasion will be marked by features somewhat similar to those carried out on Mardi Gras in Europe and in New Orleans.

Besides the carnival features, which will include the crowning of a king and queen and the procession of guests in costume, there will be several surprises. There will also be some exhibition dances, so that there will be no lack of carnival atmosphere.

Boxes will be arranged about the ballroom gallery, and among those who have taken them are the Princess Ayman de Faucigny Lucigne, Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Mrs. Henry Clegg, Mrs. William Douglas Sloane, Mrs. Frederick Pearson, Mrs. Henry B. Hyde, Mrs. George J. Gould, Mrs. Henry C. Frick, Mrs. James Speyer, Mrs. C. C. Cuyler, the Hon. Mrs. Alfred Anson, Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Mrs. Edward N. Breitling, Mrs. T. Stewart White, Mrs. Samuel T. Peters, Mrs. Arthur B. Twombly, Mrs. Walter G. Ockman, Mrs. Charles Senff, Mrs. George Blumenthal, Charles E. Sampson, Charles Hayden and Harry S. Black.

Mrs. Charles R. Scott, Mrs. Charles B. Alexander and Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish are among the organizers of the ball and it is probable that dinners will be given in advance of the ball by them or by some of the other patronesses, among whom are Mrs. H. H. Rogers, Mrs. French Vanderbilt, Mrs. Ferdinand Winderling, Mrs. Peter B. Wyckoff, Mrs. Pembroke Jones, Mrs. J. Stewart Barney and Mrs. Harry T. Peters.

An engagement recently announced was that of Miss Ella Marlon Lindley, daughter of Dr. Charles L. Lindley, formerly of Cape Town, South Africa, and now of Lakewood, N. J., to William Edgar Baker, Jr., of this city. Miss Lindley is a granddaughter of Mrs. Nicoll Lloyd of Mastic, L. I., with whom she passed most of her time. She was introduced to society several years ago at a reception given by Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan.

Mr. Baker, who is an architect, is a grandson of Mrs. Henry M. Baker of 5 West Fifty-seventh street. He was graduated from Princeton in 1909. Mr. Baker takes an active interest in dog shows, being the owner of the Tanglewood Kennels of Alfrede terriers.

No date has been mentioned for the wedding.

No date has been set for the wedding of Miss Madeleine O'Brien, third daughter of ex-Justice and Mrs. Morgan J. O'Brien, whose engagement to Stuart Duncan Preston of this city was announced recently.

Mr. Preston is a son of William D. Preston and a grandson of James C. Fargo, with whom he makes his home at 56 Park avenue. He is a member of several clubs in this city.

Among the weddings of this week will be that of Miss Dorothy E. Parker, daughter by a former marriage of Mrs. Gustaf Stromberg, to George W. Childs McCarter of this city in the Church of Zion and St. Timothy on Thursday afternoon. The bride will have her sister, Miss Sallie M. Parker, as her maid of honor, and the other attendants will be Miss Adelaide N. Parker, another sister, and the Misses Eleanor McCarter, Mary Wodden, Cordelia Hopburn, Laura Watts and Marie Ponderson.

John Farr, Jr., will act as best man. After the ceremony there will be a reception at the St. Regis.

Invitations have been sent out for the wedding of Miss Mollie Tackaberry to Armour Ferguson at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Imre Josika-Herczeg, uncle and aunt of the bride, at 28 West Tenth street, on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The ceremony will be followed by a reception.

Another wedding of this month will be that of Miss Elizabeth Frances Hanan to the Duke Don Arturo de Majo Durazzo of Italy. It will be celebrated on February 17 at noon in St. Thomas's Church. The reception will follow at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hanan.

The wedding of Miss Rebecca Lloyd, daughter of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Lloyd, to Gavin Hadden of this city will take place in Calvary Church on the afternoon of February 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Richard, who were married on January 21 in St. Thomas's Church, are passing several weeks in the South on their wedding tour. Mrs. Richard was Miss Vera Van Buren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Broadhead Van Buren. On their return to New York Mr. and Mrs. Richard will live at 375 Park avenue.

Mrs. William Lawrence Breese, who has been living of late in California, is here on a visit to her father, Hamilton Fish. She was Miss Julia Kean Fish, and her husband, who has a place in San Mateo, Cal., is the son of the late William Breese.

One of the many debutantes of the winter is Miss Margaret Warren, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elliott Warren. Her formal introduction to society was made early in the winter.

Miss Florence Doane has organized a series of subscription supper dances to be held in the Astor gallery of the Waldorf-Astoria, beginning to-morrow.

Among those who have arranged parties for the first dance are Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, Mrs. Louise Ward McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Easton, Mr. and Mrs. H. Benedict Lockwood, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley L. Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. Paschal A. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Van Vleet, Mr. and Mrs. Henry O. Talmadge, Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. MacCorkle, Mrs. William A. Perry, William H. Baldwin and Benjamin F. Smith. Conrad's orchestra will play and Lew Quinn will dance.

GENERAL NOTES OF SOCIETY.

UNDER the patronage of Mrs. Payne Whitney, Princess Troubetzkoy, Mrs. Archer M. Huntington, Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Mrs. Benjamin Gulikness, Mrs. Arthur C. Train, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, Mrs. William D. Straight and Mrs. Reginald de Koven an entertainment for the benefit of the Authors' League will be given at the Plaza on the afternoon of February 15. It will consist of readings by authors from their own works, several short dramatic sketches, moving pictures which are being prepared especially for the occasion and an auction of books by the authors themselves.

The moving pictures will show eight authors, members of the league, in an unusual arrangement. First the author will be seen in some characteristic attitude in his den. Then the picture will gradually change into a scene from one of the author's books. The authors and the stories to be illustrated are Frances Trollope ("Amelia"), Mrs. L. T. Trollope ("The Old Maid"), Miss Ida Tarbell and "He Knew Lincoln," Booth Tarkington and "Cherry," Ellis Parker Butler and "Topsie," Mrs. George Ade and "A Fair in Slings," Rex Beach and "The Spoilers," George Barr McCutcheon and "Graustark" and Louis Joseph Vance and "The Diamond Ring."

The programme will include monologues by Miss Ruth Draper, John Luther Long in a scene from "Madame Butterfly" and readings by Josephine Daskam Bacon, Mary Stewart, Cutting, Rachel Crothers, Percy Mackaye, and Rupert Hughes. James Montgomery will draw cartoons of each author while reading, these to be sold at auction afterward.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson has lent three paintings by herself or the miniature hall of fame at the Woman's Industrial Exhibition which opens at the Grand Central Palace on Thursday. Another interesting exhibit will be a piece of embroidery from Italy, in which nearly every known stitch in needlework is incorporated. It is pronounced the finest piece of work of its kind in existence and took a young Italian girl three years to complete.

Mrs. Wilson has accepted an invitation from Mrs. William Einstein, president of the Widowed Mothers' Fund, to be her guest on the opening day, Mrs. Einstein's other guests will be Mrs. Martin H. Glynn, Mrs. John Purroy Mitchel, Mrs. Daniel Field Malone and Miss Katherine B. Davis, the newly appointed Commissioner of Correction.

Throughout the exhibition the reception and tea room will be daily in charge of a different one of the nine auxiliary organizations in whose behalf the exposition is held. On the opening day the Widowed Mothers' Fund will be in charge, the chairman, will be in charge, and the other days are February 6, Franciscan Missionaries of Mary, Mrs. Nicholas F. Brady, chairman; February 7, the New York Association of the Blind, Miss Winifred Holt, chairman; February 8, New York Consumers League, Mrs. Frederick Nathan, chairman; February 9, New York Association of Day Nurseries, Mrs. Richard Irvin, chairman; February 10, Little Mothers' Aid Association, Mrs. Clarence Burns, chairman; February 11, Free Industrial School for Crippled Children, Mrs. Arthur Elliott Fish, chairman; February 12, Parks and Playground Association, Miss Madeleine Stevens, chairman, and February 14, George Washington Memorial Association, Mrs. Henry F. Dimock, president, and Mrs. Frank Northrop, chairman.

The Industrial classes of the Little Mothers' Aid Association, Mrs. Clarence Burns, president, will have a fine display of work at the Woman's Industrial Exhibition. The laundry class will have an exhibit of bed and table linen, dresses, shirt waists and baby clothes which they have been working on for weeks; the sewing class will show how the women can cut and fit their own clothes, and the cooking class at Happy Day House, 236 Second avenue, and the Greenwich street branch will prepare and send to the exposition each day soups, meats, vegetables and desserts.

Mrs. Charles E. Wilcox, who will be in charge of the association's exhibit, will be assisted by a number of young girls as waitresses on February 11, when the tea room will be under the direction of the association. Others serving on the committee of which, Mrs. Wilcox is chairman are Mrs. Charles E. Abbott, Mrs. Howard Kemp, Ashbrook Frank, Elvan Shelby, I. J. Phelps, Edmund Taylor, Frederick Berg, William Jerome Toomey, Clarence Rode, Leonard L. Hill, Beall Parker, Dr. John S. Gaines, Coleman Morgan, Charles Braxmar, Dr. C. M. McKinlay, W. H. Van Tassel, C. H. Molleson, H. C. Stevens, James Gough Jamison and Maurice Dean. Among those who have taken boxes for the affair are Mrs. Charles Tolmer, Mrs. H. C. Hallenbeck, Mrs. Raymond C. Penfield, Mrs. A. H. Candlish, Mrs. L. V. Armstrong, Mrs. E. D. Sage, Miss M. J. Baker, Mrs. C. A. Small, Mrs. E. B. Perry, Mrs. George Fluck, Mrs. J. A. Weyer, Miss Ida M. Crum, Mrs. W. G. Horton, Mrs. George T. Colter, Mrs. W. L. Strymser, Mrs. John S. Gaines, Mrs. Leonard L. Hill, Mrs. Beall Parker, Mrs. J. T. Mortimer, Mrs. Katherine Martin, Mrs. William Jerome Toomey, Mrs. J. D. Weston, Mrs. Walter H. Melroy, Mrs. Charles G. Braxmar, Mrs. Rufus B. Cowing, Mrs. G. L. Walker, Miss Anna T. Wilson, Miss Helen Barrett, Mrs. C. S. Davies, Mrs. W. R. Van Winkle and Mrs. J. B. Strongman.

At the first musical matinee for the benefit of the Free Industrial School for Crippled Children at the Plaza on February 9 the artists will be Miss Nina Dimitrieff, soprano; Leo Erdony, violinist; Lammer, pianist; tenor; Maurice Reddeman, pianist; and Charles Gilbert Spross, who will be the accompanist. A large number of tickets have been sold for the concert, the others of which will be held on February 23, March 9 and 23. Mrs. George Oscar Cole is in charge of them and tickets may be obtained from her.

A concert and dance will be given to-morrow evening at the Hotel Astor by the Glee Club of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick. The programme arranged by Victor Herbert, the honorary president, will include many Irish airs, among them being "In Dublin's Fair City," "Come Back to Erin," "The Hall of the Friendly Sons" and "An Irish Folk Song," all of which will be rendered by the Glee Club.

The soloists of the evening will be Miss Marion Morrison, harpist, and John Finnegan, tenor. At the conclusion of the programme there will be general dancing. William A. Lyster is conductor of the club and Joseph T. Ryan chairman of the entertainment committee.
